Zeus Image 1 The Zeus Trojan is by far the most widespread and widespread banking Trojan. There are countless variants of the Zeus Trojan, also known as . TSR or Trojan.Zaf. But almost all of them contain one thing in common - they infect the victim computer in order to steal data from the computer. In addition, they steal credentials to access various online services on the infected computer (mainly for financial services such as PayPal, Click2Pay, Moneybookers, etc.). The Zeus Trojan is very well known because it was the first banking Trojan to be widely distributed on the Internet. Tro
