I have just over 6 years of experience within this field and while I love the industry, there are times where the lack of variety or ability to progress within the industry can be disheartening. Which has led me to look at another field where I can develop the skills to take my career to the next level, in order to not just survive the remaining three years of my current contract, but to thrive! Having been an avid reader since I was a kid, I've always been a keen generalist reader and writer. I love that I can apply this skill to any one of a number of industries within the travel and tourism sector. For example: Personal Development, Beauty, Food and Drink, Technology, Fashion, Art, Luxury Services and so much more! In my spare time, I also work as a Barista and love to make a mean coffee! I particularly enjoy doing this at local cafés and coffee shops, but I've also started my own speciality coffee company just for my own personal use. My favourite books and authors include: Neil Gaiman, Frank McCourt, Paulo Coelho, David Sedaris, Annie Dillard, Douglas Adams, Terry Pratchett, Dan Brown, George R R

David Charles Cole, 31, made his first court appearance via video link on March 14 and was released from custody into the care of his parents on $150,000 bail. His next court appearance is set for March 31. A B.C. Supreme Court judge released Cole on the condition that he can only leave North Vancouver, except to attend work, speak to his lawyer and meet with his bail supervisor, and also has to abide by a curfew of 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. daily and a bylaw prohibiting him from being in a vehicle between 10 p.m. and 6 a.m. The B.C. Prosecution Service is attempting to revoke his passport, which would require the Ministry of Justice to pay the $5,000 price tag. Cole was charged on March 8 with three counts of obstructing a peace officer, two counts of dangerous driving, and one count each of driving with a prohibited licence, driving with a suspended licence, driving a motor vehicle with no driver licence, and giving a false name to a police officer. Police in the Lower Mainland have increasingly been taking to social media to warn the public of fake police warnings of officers looking for alleged criminals. In January, police warned the public not to approach two men they said had recently assaulted women in Delta and Richmond. The men, described as light-skinned men with a scruffy appearance, were said to have attacked women in the Fan and Fiske neighbourhoods. Vancouver police said the fake warning was a crude attempt at "scare tactics" and didn't help with any possible criminal investigation. Since then, police have updated their social media alerts to state
